"The Sweetness Pays"

"Feel free to take as many as you want," says Mrs. Todd.

The 1979 Cradock High School Admiral is dedicated to Mrs. Jean Todd. Her special interest in the needs and welfare of her students is greatly appreciated.

Off For Mrs. Todd'

"Students just can't stay away from Mrs. Todd."

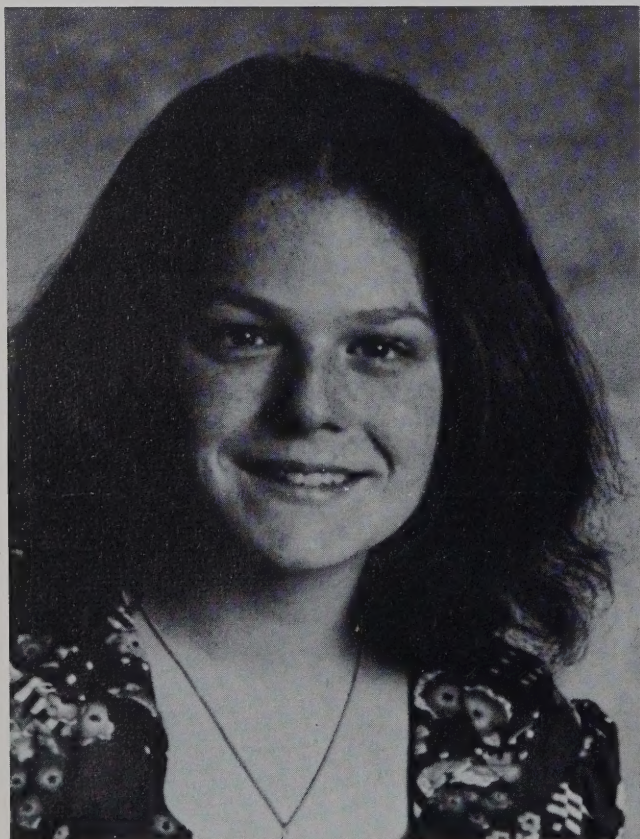

Mrs. Todd and a few of her "Ding Dongs" share a few laughs.

In Memory

Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan, Chairman of the Cradock High School Math Department.

They left us an unfinished mission. Now may we pay tribute to them as we rededicate ourselves to finish the broken refrain — the broken sentiment — they started in our lives.

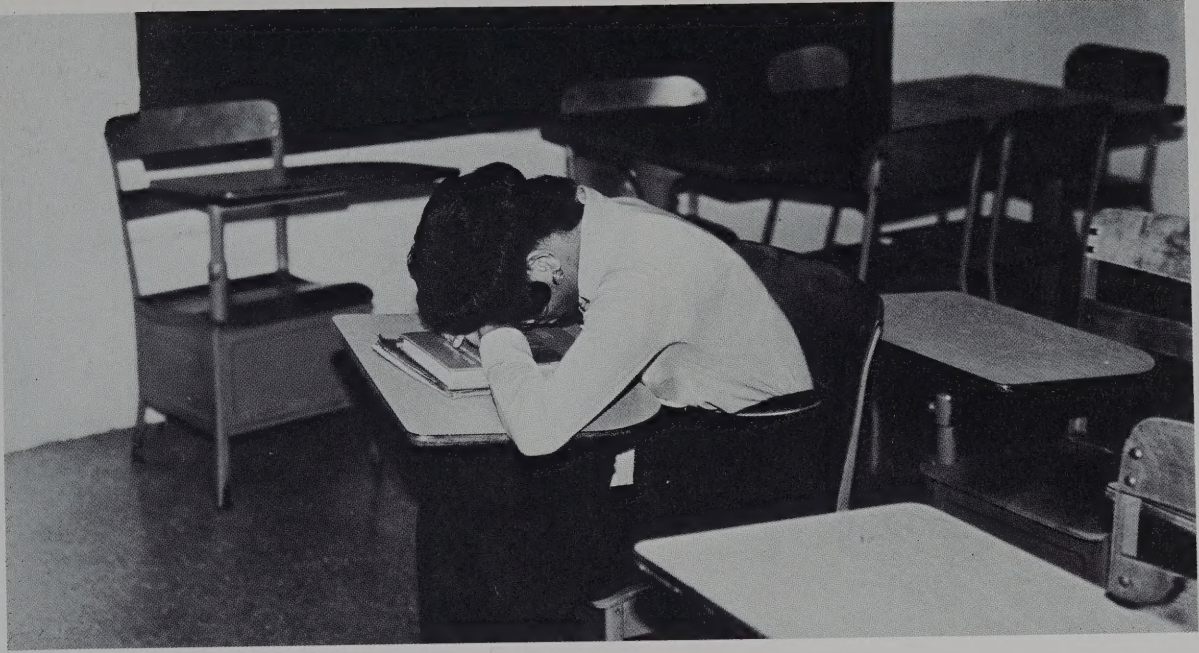

They will look down on us in loving gratitude.

The Anchor has always been a symbol of Cradock's strength. It is what holds Cradock to its traditions and standards. The Cradock yearbook staff wants to "Anchor in on Cradock" following the activities in clubs, classes, athletics and its faculty in hopes that the true spirit of Cradock High School will be depicted.

Bonnie Perkins takes time to call.

IN ON

The school staff and administration is devoted to the common goal of providing meaningful educational experiences for the 1100 students enrolled. The cooperative effort of the school staff and administration makes it possible to carry out the formulated objectives of the school.

Under the direction of the school board and central administration, the school is administered by three administrators who are professional, competent, and experienced. Faculty members are certified by the Virginia Department of Education, and each teacher is endorsed for the assigned area of responsibility. Other staff members are trained to provide competent and effective service in their respective areas.

The purpose of the student activities program is to develop, through active participation and direction, traits essential in the life of a dependable and socially aware citizen. The program seeks to offer the student opportunities to acquire and to develop significant interests, to undertake and to learn the responsibilities of leadership, fellowship, and cooperation, to become aware of community needs and problems, and to encourage constructive action for both self-improvement and school and community improvement. Through its organization, variety of offerings, and actual operations, the activities program attempts to provide for the needs and interests of the student.

IN ON

The Cradock High School Athletic Program is well rounded and includes various interscholastic sports. The Fall season always begins with Football and Cross Country. Winter brings Girls and Boys Basketball and Wrestling. With the coming of Spring, Golf, Tennis, Softball, Baseball and Track dominate the Sports program. With a deficit in the Athletic fund, a raffle was held to raise money. Participation was outstanding among the Cradock students, faculty and community. The spirit of Cradock students is exhibited by the attendance at sporting events and participation in the total athletic program.

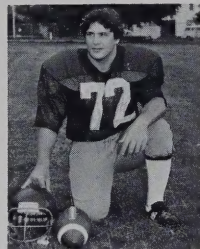

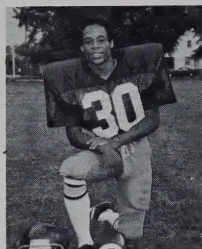

Ronnie Wood and Robbie Roberson, sports editors of the Admiral, decide which pictures would be best.

IN ON

Certain events always stand out in the lives of Cradock students. Homecoming always starts the year with a parade and halftime activities. In November and December, the Thanksgiving Food Drive, Children's Christmas Party and the Student — Faculty Ballgame dominate the Social Calendar. Second semester brings the Thespian Society Skating parties and the Miss Cradock Pageant. The year is finalized by the SCA and Senior Class Assemblies. All in all, it is the activities that make Cradock High School the Number One school it is!!!!

Cathy Payne, Jenny Camden and Melinda Williams are working on layouts for students life section.
